Good fun for three bucks! A true twin-stick, like the original Robotron, where pushing the right-dpad will fire the weapon. Decent level design, too, like pushing a car down a road, while zombies attack and also push the car back. Played this game on ubuntu linux, with an xbox-type gamepad controller. This game was written in the unity game engine, and it takes up 150 MBs of disk space. Decent music and sound effects, too.. I hope this game gets expanded. Well worth the few coin I paid for it. I'll pay for additional content too. About halfway there on survival and it's a fun grind. I'd like bigger rushes though or level settings? Co-op? Hardcore mode? :) I hope there's a boss and bigger enemies! And if you could let me adjust to windowed mode that would be great. The axe was great fun but then I got a hold of the big knife and suddenly the game became slice and dice.
